Congress To-day

The Senate did not sit to-day.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES .- Mr. BEALE made a personal explanation as to his former course on the subject of voting on certain State swamp lands. As he had been opposed to the policy, his name must have been recorded on the journal by mistake. This vote was yesterday referred to by Mr. CAMPBELL, of Ohio, in the course of his speech, in which he said that but few or none of the Democrats had refused to vote the

The bill for the relief of Rufus Dwinel, and four other private bills, were passed; as was also the bill extending the time for selling the lands heretofore granted by Congress to the Kentucky Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb.

Senate bills were referred, and other business transacted.

A Brute of a Father.

On Saturday morning last there was a little newly-fallen snow upon the ground, and the cold rain pattered chilly and cold. Most of our city readers recollect that morning, and how their cloaks, and comforts, and snow-shoes, and umbrellas were brought forth.

Between the hours of seven and eight o'clock we were passing Browns' Hotel, on the way to our office, when we observed a group of four or five wicked-looking little rascals, the oldest among them not more than fourteen years. They were looking across the Avenue very earnestly, and swearing with a compact intensity very hard to imitate.

"What are you looking at?" we asked. "Don't you see ?" said a chap about nine years

"See what!" we asked. And that moment our eyes were arrested by a stout, warmly-clad ruffian, and a little girl seven or eight years old running along at his side, unprotected from the rain, and her bare feet and legs looking red with cold. "Surely," we exclaimed, unwilling to credit even our vision in such a case-" surely that little girl is not barefooted!"

"The devil she aint!" said one of the young gentlemen, emphatically. "Yes, sir, but she isbarefooted and barelegged. She comed close by here; and I wish I was jest man enough for the ugly old rascal, and be cussed to him!" And if the young gentleman's threats and oaths would not convince one of his earnestness, his looks and gestures would have been very ample for the purpose. We felt not a little moved with compassion for the ill-treated child, and scarce less by the noble and manly impulses of the equally uncared-for boys around us.

To protect, foster, and educate the young, is of course the duty of every parent, but it is also the duty of every community; and God grant that the time may soon come when this duty shall be fully appreciated-when not a child shall suffer for food or raiment, or grow up in our midst without good moral and intellectual Webster Demonstration at New York.

The grand Webster demonstration came of at eight o'clock, last evening, in Metropolitan Hall. The meeting was organized by the choice of George Griswold as president, with a large number of vice presidents and secretaries. Mr. J. M. Ebarts then read an address recom nending Mr. Webster for the Presidency, after which Moses H. Grinnell offered a resolution that the Whigs of New York, having unlimited confidence in the integrity and patriotism of Hon-Daniel Webster, do unanimously present him to the American people as their candidate for the Presidency, subject to the decision of the Whig National Convention. Mr. G. prefaced his resolutions by a few remarks: and, upon putting the question, they were unanimously adopted. The meeting was addressed by Messrs. Thayer, Tallmadge, and others. Mr. Choate was loudly called for, but did not appear, and it was believed he was not present.

The Monk of La Trappe.

The Rev. Mr. Leahey, who claims to have been monk of La Trappe, lectured last evening at the Temperance Hall, in Baltimore. The "Clipper " says:

"The hall was fuller than on any previous oc-casion during the whole course, it having been announced that a Catholic clergyman would be present, and would undertake to controvert Mr. L.'s views; accordingly, when Mr. Leahey came upon the stand, he appealed to the audience to allow his opponent to proceed without interrup-tion. He said that he would take it as a favor if the gentleman who was to discuss the subject with him was treated with the same courtesy as had been extended to himself. No one answered his call to come forward and enter into a dispassionate argument; and Mr. L. at once proceeded with his lecture, which passed off without the dightest interruption."

All that in our view is important in this is, that law and order are triumphant, and that the gag recommended by Dr. Chaisty, David Stuart, and others, was not permitted to be applied.

Is Coffee a Wholesome Stimulant?

We are not going to discuss any such question but we can relate a little incident about coffee A gentleman stepped into our office this morning. and said that he had just left a grocery store on the Avenue. While there, said he, a lady came in and remarked that she had come nearly a mile from her home to buy some good coffee. She had seen an advertisement in the TELEGRAPH informing her where the article could be obtained. It was an article about which she was very particular; and, upon examining that presented to her, she was so well satisfied, that she not only ordered a supply of it, but selected from the store a clever bill of other desirables. This is one of the thousands of good results proceeding from a right mode of prosecuting one's business. The press is the great lever whose aid every merchant

Forrest was mulcted, in the N. P. Willis suit for assault and battery, in the sum of $2,500 damages. This kind of redress is only practicable, however, where the assailant has the "rhino:" and hence we often find men brave in proportion to their vagrant-like poverty. It would be a good idea for fighting men, who want to be truly honorable before the world, to give security for all damages before undertaking an assault. To become heroic, and then avoid responsibility by pleading pauper exemption, is but a caricature on who seek to win the admiration of the world for their spirlt and prowess.

We learn, says the Alexandria "Age." that, in a few weeks from this time, both of our splendid boats-the George Washington and the Thomas Collyer-will be put upon the route, and that their worthy and skilful commanders have made arrangements to make a trip every hour in the day between the two cities. This will be a great convenience to the business community of Alexandria, and not at all objectionable to those who travel for objects of pleasure and amuse-

The Seven-Mile Mirror!

This fine painting is not, like many other panoramic exhibitions, detached sketches from prints, but a continuous route of over two thousand miles, which portrays some o the finest views and scenery in the world. The public may led by one of the most celebrated artists in our country, walked the whole distance from Lake Erie, along the banks of the Niagara, to Lake Ontario, making full drawings of the entire range of country travelled over. At Lake Ontario a vessel was chartered, which proceeded to the head of the Seguenay-which is the head of navigation on that wonderful river, and the "Mirror's" end. Tricks on and of the "Lightning Line"-Leahey-New Move of the Firemen-Business-The Markets.

BALTIMORE, March 5-10 p. m. Some person in the North, instigated by that sort of spirit which stabs in the dark, has been guilty of practising a silly hoax over the telegraph, forwarding pretended foreign news. He got ap a stupid story about the assassination of Louis Vapoleon, great excitement in France, &c.; and also promulgated false market quotations. This loax found its way into some of the Northern papers, and thus misled the mercantile community. The person who would intentionally perpetrate such an outrage is dishonest to the heart's core, and fit only to be placed on a parallel with the midnight incendiary. The cause of this evil can be traced to its legitimate source; and now, since the deleterious consequences have been exemplified, it were well for the public press to raise its voice against the further existence of that cause.

It may not be generally known, nevertheless it s a fact susceptible of positive proof, that a certain portion of the telegraph wires, extending from the boundary of the State of Maine to Halifax, has been for some time chartered to certain parties in New York; or rather an exclusive contract has been made by the company owning said telegraph line to send the foreign news by the arrival of each steamer at Halifax first and exclusively to the party in New York with whom this contract exists. No matter what other party may place a despatch of foreign news first in the telegraph office in Halifax, it is thrown aside and detained until the monopolists are supplied. Thus this news goes into the hands of the New York monopoly, who, through themselves and their agents in various parts of the country, use it to speculate. A few merchants are singled out, and these are posted with the news, in order that they may impose upon and take advantage of others.

To these monopolists is to be traced the recent pitiable and contemptuous hoax. They pretend also to supply a portion of the newspaper press, in advance of others, with the latest European advices, when a steamer puts into Halifax; but they take good care that the public press, whose duty it should be to issue the first intelligence, does not get hold of the news until it has been secretly used by some few favored merchants for speculative purposes-or perhaps a more suitable term would be swindling operations. Here then the fountain-head of the evil. Other parties are desirous of obtaining, independently, their own despatch from Halifax. They have their private and reliable correspondents, from whom they would prefer getting their information; but they are debarred this privilege by the odious monopoly of the New York party, and the still more reprehensible system of exclusiveness sanctioned by the particular telegraph company and owners thereof

The telegraph should be a common public parrier. Its legitimate functions are, to serve all alike-to show no favors. "First come, first served," is the golden rule. The adoption of any other system by so powerful an agent is not only wrong, but absolutely dangerous, and subversive of every just principle. As well might the public mail grant certain favors to a few over the nany, as for the telegraph to designate who shall and who shall not be allowed to participate in its benefits. I feel confident that if Professor Morse, the distinguished inventor of this mighty machine, had supposed its legitimate purposes would have been so monstrously subverted, he would never have given permission for his patent to be used. Better that no telegraph had ever existed: and better now that every post and wire throughout the length and breadth of this Union were levelled with the earth, than they should be used to aid in carrying out so stupendous a system of fraud and monopoly.

It is to be hoped that the time is not distant when those who control the telegraph wires beivalry, and should be carefully avoided by all tween Boston and Halifax will see the error of their ways, and allow the great public, without preferment or respect of persons, to participate alike in the advantage of (what should be) their common carrier. This done, an end will be put to these stupid and wicked hoaxings.

THAT DYSPERSIA CAN BE CURED!

From R. P. STOW, esq., Assistant Clerk United States House of Representatives. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15, 1846. Dr. GEORGE B. GREEN-Dear Sir.: I feel it not only a pleasure, but a duty, to make known to you, and the public, (if you desire it,) the surprising effects of the Oxygenated Bit ters, in relieving me from that most discouraging disorder Dyspepsia. I have been afflicted for about seventeen year with the usual attendant symptoms, viz: constipation of the bowels, headache, pain in the chest, flatulence, acidity of the stomach, and severe nausea; and, for months at a time, not the least particle of moisture would appear on the surface of the chest or limbs, and most of the time I was extremely billous. I have used various remedies, have been strict it my diet, have been dosed with calomel and emetics day after day by physicians, but all to no good purpose. Hearing of the wonderful effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in the ture of Dyspepsia, I procured some as a last resort; have used four bottles of the medicine, and find the bad symptom health. None but the Dyspentic sufferer, who has felt all the horrors of the disease, can at all appreciate the value of the medicine. I most sincerely hope that all will make trial of the medicine, and with me be able to rejoice in the return Respectfully, yours,

THE celebrated German Physicians, Drs. BROTHERS & GRAY, have established a permanent Medical Office in this city, after having travelled the world over in search of knowledge; and, having spent seven years among the Indians for the purpose of getting a thorough knowledge of botany, they flatter themselves qualified to alleviate and cure all complaints to which the human family are subject. We flatter ourselves that all who favor us with a call, that we will, without asking them a question, tell them their complaints and symptoma, and guaranty an easy and speedy cure. A decided advantage we have over other medical men is in the manner we determine the nature and location of the disease, which is by the urine. We require at least two ounces of the first in the morning. The many facilities afforded us by heepital and private practice in this and foreign countries, warrant us in assuring those who are suffering from disease that our treatment is attended with unusually favorable results, for "to know the disease is half the cure." The Doctors' medicines are wholly vegetable, and

The Affairs of Europe.

In a special despatch to the Baltimore "Sun," the writer says:

Austria into Piedmont; and Prussia into the canton of Neufchatel. In the mean time, the combined fleets of the respective parties are to maintain such an attitude with respect to Eng-land as will prevent all interference from that power. What is to be the reward of France, does not yet appear; but Belgium is the quarter tow-ards which her ambition tends.

"The army is beginning to be heartily ashamed to have at its head so contemptible a commander, and dissatisfaction is evidently diffusing itself or In the history of the United States gov-volt are constantly occurring, and at a single ernment there never was a time when the eyes of all parties were so intently fixed upon its treasure would be made against the President. We are approximating to a decisive issue. Adieu."

THE AMERICAN TELEGRAPH.—This is one of the best papers on our exchange list, and supplies a place in Washington (D. C.) that has long been vacant. It is a paper for the people, and speaks out manfully on the rights of the laboring portion of the community. For a time it seemed to turn into the party line, but lately it has pursued its former independent course. Success seems to attend it, and it is worthy of it.
